

Death Be Not Proud (The Secret of the Journal)

Following the vicious attack by a psychotic colleague, and reeling from the suspicion that Matthew Lynes is not all that he seems, Professor Emma D'eresby flees her college teaching position in Maine to her hometown in England taking the mysterious seventeenth-century journal she stole from the colleges archives with her. Broken physically and emotionally, Emma drifts until, fearing for their daughters sanity, her parents invite a family friend to assess her. In the course of their conversation, Emma discovers that he spoke to Matthew over thirty years before. This finally spurs her into action and soon, when she finds what certainly must be a reference to Matthew in the journal, she begins to understand Matthews profound secret. But when Matthew arrives to confess his love for her, she must decide if she can trust him and he must decide if he can share his extraordinary secret with her. Drawn by a deep connection that both feel but dont quite understand they find they must set aside their doubts and trust each other.
