

More Than Friends: A Christian Romance Novella

99? Special The heart wants what the heart wantsit doesnt care about family tradition, or what a persons beliefs are. But Catherine Wall made her father a promise when she was young, and she cant go against his dying wishes. Jaidon has faced obstacles before, and hes always overcome them. Catherine seems to be a dream come true. She doesnt mind working with inner city youth and theyre both Christians. Yet, to her, dating him would be the equivalent of being unequally yoked. No matter what Catherine says, she cant convince Jaidon that their love is not meant to be... They are just too different. Can Jaidon leave his church and become a Quaker? Or are their hopes of a happily ever after doomed because of a promise a little girl made so very long ago? (Note: Previously published as New Gardens Conversion by Barbour Books in THE QUAKERS OF NEW GARDEN, 2012.)
