

This powerful book brings spiritual understanding to the defining event of our new century. In word and picture, it shows us sacrament where others see rubble, gratitude where we thought was only despair, love in sorrow, and grace everywhere. It is a book unlike any other for it recognizes and blesses the pain of being human. Manhattan has been washed in the blood of the lamb, writes Kennedy, and Ground Zero is sacred because its rains are imbued with the mystery of the lives that were lived there. This is our century's Titanic, this shipwrecked vessel from whose passengers, crew and rescuers we learn more every day about what makes anything sacred. How could we miss it? How can we not eat and drink of this profound sacrament? Unflinching in its honesty and uncompromising in its sacramental vision, Meditations at the Center of the World can bring peace to human hearts. It is a book unlike any other for it also recognizes and appreciates the joy of being human.
